What does JAMI do?

JAMI is a registered charity established in 1989 to provide mental health services to the Jewish community. One in four people will experience mental health difficulties at some time. JAMI is here to help them and their families, recognise the symptoms and know where and how to seek help.

JAMI House runs a range of activities to help people regain confidence and learn vital skills, and offers, what is for many, the only hot, nutritious daily meal that they will eat. JAMI provides a lifeline by enabling people to come to a place which is free of judgement, prejudice and stigma.

JAMI also offers a range of other services including befriending, cultural and religious activities, advice and information, social events, outreach and hospital visiting.

JAMI is there, not only for those with severe and enduring ill-health, but also to offer education to our children, to ensure that they seek help quickly and effectively and so help to prevent more serious ill-health in years to come.

How you can help

This year, JAMI needs to raise £800,000 to help us continue our vital work. The money raised from this event will go directly towards providing activities and a daily hot meal for the people who use our services at JAMI House.

Your support is vital and greatly appreciated.
